RACERS RUN INTO WRECKAGE

Johnny Sherrill and Tommy Bridges
Meet Instant Death, While Billy
Sherrill and Mechanician Brown
Succumb to Injuries—Negro Lad
Crossing Track Innocent Cause of Accident.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Johnny Sherrill and Tommy Bridges, composing the Marquet-Buick team, were instantly killed when four racing cars collided in the sixth lap of a 25-mile race at Cumberland park, while Billy Sherrill, driver, and "Cooch" Brown, a mechanic of a Stutz car, died at a local hospital from frightful injuries received when the machines crashed together.

The accident, which resulted from an attempt by Clyde Donovan, leading the field in a Studebaker, to avoid striking a small negro boy who was crossing the track. Donovan, hurrying around the track at 60 miles an hour, suddenly swerved his car to keep from running the boy down. He managed to plunge the flying car into the high fence, leaping clear of the machine. The force of the impact tore a long stretch of the fence down. The car then, striking a large post, rebounded and hurtled through the air 20 feet and turned turtle.

Following close behind, the Buick team, in a desperate burst of speed to overhaul the flying leaders, blinded by the dust, plunged into the wreckage. The car leaped high into the air, pinning Sherrill and Bridges beneath, where they were found locked in an embrace of death.

In rapid succession three other cars dashed onto the pile of twisted steel and mutilated bodies. The Stutz being the first to strike, Sherrill and Brown were hurled a hundred feet. A Mercer then tore by at terrific speed, skimming the wreck, while a second Mercer team dived into the fence to avoid further carnage. Ed Polk, driver, and Freeman Armsby, mechanic, received terrible injuries.

The fence into which Donovan had plunged his Studebaker was lined with the throng attending the races, and scores received minor bruises when they were hurled to the ground.

With a fractured skull Brown was hurried to a hospital, while Sherrill had both legs and other bones broken.

RIDE ENDS FATALLY

Columbus Youth Killed and Three Injured Near Circleville.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—Joy riding in an automobile recently purchased by the Columbus board of education was responsible for the death of one young man and the injury of three others, all of this city, on the Adelphi road, seven miles southeast of Circleville.

Walter Wihl, 20, was killed instantly. Kenneth Garner, stepson of Dr. Edward Herbst, chauffeur for the board of education and driver of the car, was cut about the face and head and injured internally, perhaps fatally. Ira Myers and Carl Minck were injured about the back, but less seriously than young Garner.

The automobile, which was pur-

Over 1,000 delegates—1,200, to be exact—made arrangements to attend the forty-first annual convention and exposition of the International Association of Fire Engineers in New York city during the week of Sept. 1-6. They represented not only this country, but Europe, Africa and Australia. For the exposition were gathered many types of modern fire fighting apparatus, including the latest in auto fire engines, trucks and hose wagons. Fire Chief John Kenlon of New York had arranged to show the latest auto machines of his department to the visitors. According to the program, two features were considered especially interesting. One was the parade of 1,500 regular firemen and 2,000 volunteers, and the other was the unveiling of the Firemen's monument, erected at a cost of $100,000. Pictures of an auto truck and an auto fire engine used in the New York department are here shown, with a portrait of Chief Kenlon.

chased by the board of education only a few weeks ago, is partially demolished. The party of boys left Columbus for a ride. Young Garner took the machine from the board of education garage, of which he is in charge, and stopped for each of the other young men. They went to Circleville and then south on the Adelphi road. Three miles north of Adelphi they were speeding down a long hill, and when the automobile struck a rut by a bridge at the bottom of the hill it bounded into the air, skidded, turned completely over and landed upright in a ditch.

PINNED UNDER AUTO

Marion, O., Sept. 2.—A five-passenger touring car operated by George Flaherty turned turtle north of here, pinning Flaherty and his two companions, John Navin and Edward Stuber, beneath it. All three suffered numerous injuries, Flaherty being internally hurt. The car was going 45 miles an hour when it struck an offset in the road and plunged down an embankment.

Cummins Advocates Prohibition Rather Than Tax on Deals.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Short selling on the New York stock exchange, the Chicago board of trade and on cotton, produce and stock exchanges generally was attacked by Senator Cummins in the senate as one of the "greatest vices" of the day and as "a menace that threatens the industrial and financial strength of the country."

Supporting an amendment he had offered to the tariff bill, proposing a 10 per cent tax on all trades where

SOLON CHARGES BANK HAS TRIED TO START TROUBLE DECLARES FINANCIERS POISON PUBLIC MIND

Senator Owen Takes Rap at New York City Bank.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Senator Robert L. Owen, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, charged that the National City bank of New York is promoting and directing a propaganda for the purpose of discrediting the administration's monetary reform bill. Senator Owen declared that a deliberate effort is being made to mislead the country, to convey the "false suggestions" that the administration is proceeding to a revision of the banking and currency laws without having given the bankers of the country a hearing. In his letter Chairman Owen says:

"The propaganda now being carried on, led by the National City bank of New York, which has circularized the country against the bill, is obviously intended to discredit the administration and to make it appear that the bankers have not been consulted and that the committee is not well informed. This misrepresentation has the effect of poisoning the public mind and misleading public opinion. Such misrepresentation will thus promote a private interest against the public interest. It is an open secret that these great concerns, like Morgan & Company, have publicly agents to whom they pay large salaries and who are able to create fictitious and false public opinion unduly favorable to the contentions of these great financial companies.

"The business men of the country need have no fear that their representatives and senators in congress will act unadvisedly. The representatives of the big banks of the country have been given the most abundant opportunity to be heard."

Several of the foreign warships at Nanking were struck during the fighting. A sailor on the United States cruiser Cincinnati was wounded.

PEOPLE STIRRED BY NEWS FROM ACROSS BORDER

AMERICANS EXECUTED?

Unofficial Rumor Creates Great Excitement in El Paso.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 2.—Reports have reached here unofficially that General Bravo, commanding the federal troops in Torreon, executed six Americans whom he caught in the ranks of rebels taken prisoners from the command of General Carranza, and he refused to stay their execution when American Consul General Carruthers protested. In Juarez Colonel Vasquez, the federal commander, has no advice confirming the execution, but it is general talk in the city and appears to have been received from federal sources of some character.

"If General Bravo executed the Americans he had a perfect right to do so," said Colonel Vasquez. From which it is taken that other federal commanders mean to apply the same treatment to Americans captured serving in the rebel ranks.

The report in Juarez says that Consul Carruthers asked General Bravo for time to communicate with his government when these Americans were sentenced to execution, but that Bravo told him he would not delay the execution for anybody.

"The United States does not recognize the government of Mexico," he is reported to have said, "why should I recognize the United States?"

Consul Edwards in Juarez has no advice of the execution.

Has Lost All Track of Special

HAS CONFERENCE WITH BACON

Georgia Senator Later Explains That President Wilson's Warning to Americans Was Not Intended To Be Arbitrary—Government Funds Used to Move Indigent Yankees From Troubled Zone.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Just as he was hurrying from his office to catch a train for Chestertown, Md., where he was scheduled to deliver a Chattanooga speech, Secretary of State Bryan said that nothing of importance had developed in the Mexican situation. It was admitted generally in official circles that things are at an absolute standstill so far as President Wilson's program is concerned. Nothing was heard from John Lind, the president's special envoy. It is not even known at the state department whether, as was reported from Vera Cruz, that he has gone into the country for a few days' rest.

Not only has there been for the last three days a total absence of developments in the Mexican situation, but it was clearly indicated that not even administration officials expect anything of importance for some days. One of the president's advisers said that the administration has not the slightest idea what the next turn of the situation will be and much less has it any definite expectation as to when events will take another turn.

Senator Bacon, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, had a long talk with Secretary Bryan. At the conclusion of the conference the senator said that there was meant to be nothing arbitrary in the president's warning to Americans to get out of Mexico. The president's statement, he said, was merely a word of advice to Americans following the rejection of the well-intentioned and sincere efforts of the Washington government to restore peace in Mexico. No Americans need feel that they are compelled to leave Mexico just because the president suggested an exodus, according to Senator Bacon. The senator also said that Lind's offer of the assistance of the United States with regard to a loan for the Mexican government in return for acceptance of President Wilson's proposals was merely a promise of good offices and nothing more. It meant, he said, merely that the United States would, in case of a chance, inform American bankers that in the judgment of the administration they might venture to do business with the government at Mexico City.

Inquiries still continue to come in from Americans in Mexico as to the meaning of President Wilson's warning to Americans.

Mr. Bryan ordered inquiries made as to the truth of the report that General Bravo at Torreon had refused to recognize Consul General Carruthers. Advice from Torreon are to the effect that the federals still hold the city, while the rebels are in possession of the surrounding territory.

While no figures have been given out at this time, it is known that at Secretary Bryan's dictation large sums of money are being expended by his government for the relief and assistance of Americans and their families in Mexico. No expenses have been spared either in investigating reports of outrages against Americans or in assisting Americans to get out of the country.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 2.—Attacked by strikers, armed deputies at the North Kearsarge mine fired into the crowd and fatally wounded Marguerite Fazekas, a 15-year-old girl, and wounded half a dozen other men and women.

The deputies were attacked first, according to their stories, while at federation headquarters it is charged that the deputies fired without cause into a picket of marching strikers.

The shooting of the girl has aroused the striking miners throughout the copper district to a fury, and the military and civil authorities are preparing for a wave of bloodshed and riot. Inflamed by the reference to the shooting by the federation leaders as a "cold-blooded murder," strikers are threatening trouble.

General Abbey, in command of the state militia, has urged officers to in-

EXPERT TESTS FAYETTE SOIL AND GIVES SPLENDID ADDRESS ON FERTILIZER TO BE USED

Prof. McCall of the College of Agriculture Addresses Many Interested Persons on Subject of Vital Importance to Fayette Farmers—Explains Deficiency in Soil Examined.

As the result of a letter written to the College of Agriculture of Ohio State university, by Richard Ramsey, who operates "Hazel Dell," Capt. E. A. Ramsey's farm on the Lewis pike, Prof. McCall of the university addressed a body of representative farmers, Tuesday morning.

The farmers gathered under the big trees of Hazel Dell and found the cool shade a much more inviting place for a summer discussion than a hot hall.

Prof. McCall has a wide reputation as a soil expert and his special mission was to make investigation of the soil and give advice in regard to what plant foods were most needed for success in growing various crops. Mr. Ramsey met Prof. McCall on the morning train and while the farmers were gathering, drove him over several farms, from which samples of the soil were taken after careful study of conditions.

Several of these soil tests revealed deficiency in lime, which proved rather a surprise to Mr. McCall. In each field where the catch of clover had failed the acid test revealed lack of lime which, while it is not a fertilizer, is the fundamental necessity for a good stand of clover.

Prof. McCall introduced his informal talk by emphasizing the difficult problem of the rich, level black land of Fayette, land already so fertile that it does not show the results of upbuilding like the poorer soils. He also called attention to the difficulty of deciding from soil analysis what plant foods are needed, as the soil often shows an abundance of plant food which yet is not available for the growing crop.

The crop must have something available upon which to feed and the farmer must provide that available supply.

Prof. McCall was firmly of the opinion that in regard to most Fayette county soil, the use of complete fertilizer was a waste of money. He said that there were very few farms where conditions were right that needed ammonia and its purchase was money thrown away. If the soil is deficient in drainage, no amount of high grade fertilizer can give returns and while there is a good deal of tile in Fayette Co., Mr. McCall doesn't believe there is near enough.

While specific recommendations are hard to make, Prof. McCall advised in general for the use for Fayette's black soils, of potash and phosphoric acid for best results, but for the clay soils, which are in good condition, phosphoric acid alone is often sufficient. Most of the soils of this county are deficient in phosphoric and the speaker strongly recommended the reinforcement of manure with phosphoric acid before it is taken to the field.

A "round table" discussion, in which leading farmers took part, was of much interest.

Prof. McCall is a smooth, easy talker, and the informality of the talk made it one of pleasure as well as interest.

Following the address, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey hospitably entertained Professor McCall with several other guests at dinner.

Mr. Chas. Allen drove the speaker to Washington for the afternoon train, visiting a number of farms in this vicinity enroute. Prof. McCall expects to return in October for the fall fair and may bring with him other agriculturists for a continued study of Fayette's soil problems.

MANY FARMERS ARE CUTTING CORN

The continued dry weather in many parts of the county has caused the corn to ripen so quickly that a large number of farmers are busily engaged in cutting their corn.

In some parts of the county the dry weather has injured the crop to some extent, while in other parts the crop has matured nicely.

The number of corn cutters this year will probably be below the average.

LININGER REUNION

The annual Lininger reunion was held Sunday in the Ralph Braden grove, one mile northeast of Good Hope. Relatives from Fayette and Ross counties attended in force, there being 135 persons present. The customary feast of good things to eat appealed to old and young and a bounteous spread was disposed of. Reminiscences and the renewing of acquaintances made the occasion a very enjoyable one. The eldest person present was Uncle John Lininger, of this city, well on to 90 years of age, and the last one of a large family of brothers and sisters.

It was decided to hold the 1914 reunion on the last Thursday in August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Lininger, near New Holland.

CARR WILL CASE IN COMMON PLEAS

The Jacob Carr will case, filed by Amanda J. Worrell, daughter of the deceased, on August 16, 1911, came up in Common Pleas court this morning, and some difficulty in obtaining a jury resulted, a special venire being necessary.

The plaintiff, who filed action against Salathiel Carr and others, claims a will purporting to be the last one made by the deceased, is not the last, and in their answer the defendants claim the instrument is the last will and testament of the late Jacob Carr.

Indications are that the case will be hard fought on both sides.

LIGHT VOTE IS BEING POLLED TODAY

Indications today noon were that a very light vote would be cast in this city today, and when the votes are counted it is expected that the number will be several hundred short of the usual vote polled.

More interest has centered in the question of "Shall a Commission be Chosen to Frame a Charter?" than in the contest for the nomination of the regular municipal officers.

The election is unusually quiet, and scores of voters have walked past the polls without stepping into vote. Never before has the indifference of the voter been more marked.

HAVE MARRIED EACH OTHER ELEVEN TIMES

Wedding Ceremony Often Performed For Vernons.

Hagerstown, Md.—To be married to each other eleven times since 1909 has been the novel experience of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, who are at Bradock Heights. The marriage ceremonies have been performed in as many different countries.

Asked why he and his wife had been married so often, Vernon said it was a sort of hobby with them, and they took the step as a precaution because in some foreign countries marriages performed in others are not recognized.

He and his wife were first married in Columbus, O., in 1909; then in Montreal in 1910; in England, Scotland, Wales, France, Germany, Belgium and Russia in 1911; in Sydney, Australia, in 1912, and in Vera Cruz, Mexico, in 1913. They hold marriage certificates of all these weddings, and the display is unique.

In some of the countries where they were married they did not understand a word the officiating clergyman was saying, but simply nodded their heads when they thought the time had come to make the responses.

They speak French and German.

MERCURY FAILED TO KILL.

Driscoll, Who Took Twenty-one Grains of Bichloride, Is Recovering.

Orange, N. J.—Timothy Driscoll, who was told a short time ago that he would certainly die as a result of bichloride of mercury poisoning, is looking forward to the near approach of the day when he will be discharged, a well man, from the Orange Memorial hospital. Driscoll took twenty-one grains of the poison, and his case was regarded as hopeless. Physicians at the hospital say that his recovery was remarkable, and they regard his case as unique in the annals of mercury poisoning.

MAN NABBED WHO ROBBED EMPLOYER

Walter Baldock Arrested in Lynchburg, Va., and Will Be Returned Here to Answer to Charge of Stealing Valuables from Clark Post Residence a Month Ago.

Just as he stepped from the train in his home town of Lynchburg, Va., after being nearly one month on his way, Walter Baldock, the man who robbed the Clark Post residence of many valuables several weeks ago while Mr. and Mrs. Post were absent, was apprehended by the marshal of Lynchburg a couple of days ago, and Sheriff Nelson left Tuesday morning to bring the man back to this city to face the music.

Baldock was employed on the Post farm as a farm hand, and waited until he was alone in the house, then rifled it from top to bottom, securing several hours' start in making his escape, before the robbery was discovered. Mr. Post is a member of the Anti-Horse Thief Association and that organization immediately offered $50 reward for the man's apprehension.

Cards bearing a description of the man, were sent broadcast, one going to the Lynchburg authorities, who have since been keeping an eye out for Baldock. So close was the watch maintained that when he stepped from the train the marshal clapped his hand upon the man's shoulder and placed him under arrest. It is said he had most of the stolen goods in his possession.

Prosecutor Maddox secured requisition papers from Governor Cox, and these were placed in the hands of Sheriff Nelson, who started after the man Tuesday morning, and will bring him back to this city some time Wednesday or Thursday.

THAW WATCHDOG IS AT JAIL DOOR TO AID IN FREEDOM FIGHT

ROGER O'MARA

Pittsburg, Aug. 30.—Former Chief of Police Roger O'Mara, who is now private detective for the Thaw family, was summoned to Sherbrooke, Canada, to aid Harry K. Thaw in his fight for freedom after he was caught and held there following his escape from the Matteawan (N. Y.) insane asylum. O'Mara worked for Thaw all through his many trials, and it was believed that the "Thaw watchdog," as they call him, would be on the job if an attempt was made to kidnap Thaw and return him to the United States by force.

DISEASED HOGS ARE QUARANTINED

A shipment of hogs, received in Circleville a few days ago from some point in northern Kentucky, was found to be suffering from cholera, and when the attention of the State Veterinarian was called to the affair he promptly ordered the hogs quarantined in order to prevent a further spread of the disease.

It has developed that in some counties a great amount of cholera is due to herds of hogs shipped in from adjoining counties, or from some other state.

In this county the movement to eliminate cholera from the county by means of a $20,000 appropriation set aside to be used in the county selected by the State Board of Agriculture, has not yet been started.

CABIN IN WHICH FAMOUS SEA FIGHTER WAS BORN NEAR KNOXVILLE, TENN.

ONE of the interesting things to see on the grounds of the National Conservation Exposition in Knoxville, Tenn., this Fall is the little old log cabin in which Admiral Farragut, that famous Union sea fighter, was born near Knoxville. Farragut in the dark days in the 60's played his part in the defense of the Union as gallantly as did any man. His name has gone ringing down in the pages of history and his fame will live forever. His birthplace as seen on the Conservation Exposition grounds is of peculiar interest to men and women of the North.

COUNCIL CONDUCTS ROUTINE BUSINESS

Resolution to Proceed With Main St. Improvement Placed on First Reading—Alley Assessing Ordinance Vetoed—Railroads Will be Urged to Improve Their Crossings—Citizen Says Many Street Lights Out of Order.

The general routine of business was about all considered by council at the regular meeting Monday night although the session was somewhat lengthy.

Cox, Durant, McLean, Sheets and Veal were present, with President Light in the chair. Minutes of the past two sessions were read.

Few visitors were present. Mr. Bowman Hess called council's attention to the fact that a number of street lights had been out the past week. This caused some discussion, but no definite action was taken.

The resolution determining to proceed with the paving of Main street from Market to Paint was read the first time.

Attention was called to the assessing ordinance for the paving of the alley extending from Market to Court street between Fayette and North street, Mayor Smith's veto of the ordinance being read. He gave as reasons for vetoing the ordinance that it worked a hardship on the Hess Livery barn property which extends from Market street to the alley intersection. Attention was called to another way of assessing the cost whereby the hardship would be lessened.

The Service Director was instructed to communicate with the B. & O. and C. H. & D. railroads and urge the immediate repair of some of the crossings over the streets, which have become dangerous and annoying. Adjournment was taken without a special session being called.

FEARFUL WRECK IN CONNECTICUT

Special to Herald.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 2.—Fifteen persons were killed and seventy-five more or less seriously injured this morning when the White Mountain express on the New Haven road crashed into the rear of the Bar Harbor express. It is claimed that fog made the reading of signals impossible.

BAND CONCERT

The third of the free open air band concerts will be given by Imperial band at the intersection of Main and Court streets, commencing at 7:45 o'clock this evening.

MAKES HUSBAND'S COFFIN.

Widow Walks Two Days to Camp With Body of Husband.

Grizzly Gulch, Cal.—A tired little woman leading a burro with a lopsided pack came down the mountain into this camp. Every man in the street helped to undo the hitches that fastened a plank coffin to the pack saddle and carry it into a house, where the woman broke down over the body of her husband, which the coffin contained.

She said her husband, P. T. Strifling, a prospector, was killed and his partner badly hurt in a cave-in on their claim. She made the injured man as comfortable as she could and placed provisions where he could reach them. Then she proceeded to build the coffin around her husband's body and succeeded in getting it on the burro's back. She walked twenty-four hours with hardly a halt to reach Grizzly Gulch so that her husband might be buried with suitable rites.

"KISS IF YOU WISH," SAYS HEALTH EXPERT

Disease Germ Does Not Lurk on Ruby Lips, Asserted.

Chicago. — Health Commissioner Young has appeared as champion for the kiss. Other health guardians to the contrary notwithstanding, his advice is to keep right on kissing as often as the girl will permit; that the disease germ does not lurk and multiply on the ruby lips, as some experts claim.

When the printers' proof sheets of matter to go in the weekly health bulletin were submitted recently to Dr. Young by C. St. Clair Drake, a strict sanitarian, the health commissioner found an article devoted to kissing.

"That will never get by me," said he. The article, in part, read something like this:

"And there is no telling the amount—the students of the subject claim—the cases are numerous of tuberculosis and other diseases communicated by a kiss."

"Nonsense," Dr. Young said. "I will have to act as a safety valve here, be a regular Horatius at the bridge." Again he perused:

"Therefore kissing should be avoided—should not be indulged in." To his secretary Dr. Young turned, issuing this order:

"Have the entire article against kissing stricken from the bulletin. Let people kiss all they want to."

"A kiss," Dr. Young said, "is dangerous only when it is indulged in so as to lead to observation by an irate papa or mamma. The degree of aggravation differs in each case."

LANE SPENDS ENTIRE SALARY.

Costs Secretary of Interior $10,000 to Maintain Home Alone.

Portland, Ore.—It costs Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, $10,000 a year to maintain a home as a cabinet officer and $2,000 a year for "ice cream and pink teas," according to a statement he made to friends during his recent visit to this city while discussing the high cost of living for government officials in Washington. This dissipates his entire salary of $12,000 a year, and he has nothing remaining "excepting the glory."

Secretary Lane said that he is not extravagant in his home, as he resides in the same residence he occupied while a member of the interstate commerce commission. He pays $1,500 a year rent for the home, has two colored servants and is not a lavish entertainer.

BRINGS 2,400 SEALSKINS.

Animals Were Killed Only to Furnish Food For Eskimos.

San Francisco.—With 2,400 sealskins and 1,000 skins of blue fox, the steamer Homer returned from the Pribilof islands. The furs and sealskins were gathered from the United States government stations on St. George and St. Paul islands and are worth about $1,000,000.

Last year the Homer brought down 5,000 sealskins. Seals are killed only to furnish food for the Eskimos of the islands.

SACRED CONCERT DRAWS BIG CROWD

The sacred concert given at the Willis Park by the Imperial band Sunday evening, was enjoyed by a crowd of many hundreds of persons, and the band never played better than when the notes of the sacred rolled out over the throng who had gathered at the park.

Rev. Ross addressed the audience on better citizenship, and Rev. West's address was for a purer life and a closer friendship with God.

Imperial quartet rendered a pleasing selection.

The evening's entertainment was a mark of appreciation by the well known degree staff to the citizens of Washington who have encouraged and cheered them on to splendid achievements.

The staff extends thanks to Mrs. Willis for the use of the park, Rev. Ross and Rev. West for the part taken in the evening's program, and to Mr. Jay G. Williams for contributing largely to the campers' comforts.

D. T. & I. AGENT LEAVES FOR LIMA

An important change occurred at the D. T. & I. office in this city Tuesday morning, when Agent A. L. Walters left for Lima, to become agent at that point, and he will be succeeded here by J. M. Lucas, who has been an efficient employee of the local office for years. While Mr. Lucas will hold the position temporarily, it is expected that he will become the permanent agent within a short time, as E. C. Brooks, agent at Ironton, had been considered for the position, but has refused to leave Ironton.

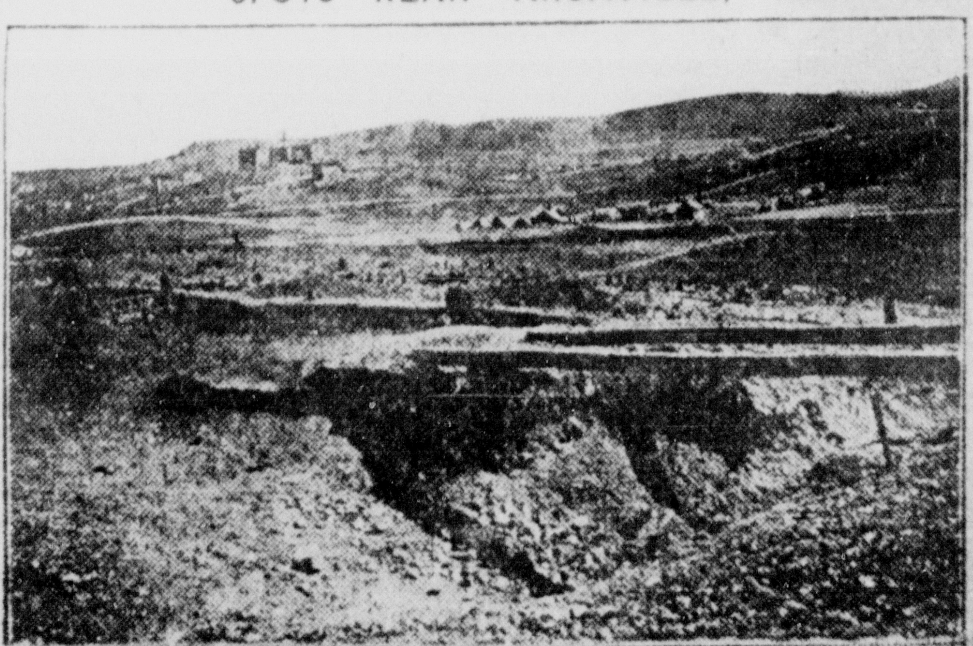

Mr. Walters has been employed at the local office for the past dozen years, and his friends here will be pleased to learn of the promotion to Lima, although reluctant to see him go.

Herb. Pierce, who has been employed at the local offices of the D. T. & I. for several years, has resigned, and Chas. McKinney, of Stoughton, fills the vacancy.

FORT SANDERS, ONE OF THE FAMOUS SPOTS NEAR KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE

THOUSANDS of Northern visitors to the National Conservation Exposition that is being held in Knoxville, Tenn., in the heart of the Appalachian region, this Fall, are visiting Ft. Sanders, where a famous battle was fought fifty years ago between Union and Confederate forces. Burnside and Longstreet were the opposing generals in this battle that came as the culmination of the siege of Knoxville during which Longstreet tried ineffectually to pen up Burnside's army in that city.

Hartman Theater

Force of circumstances have confined most of us to our own country, and we have had to suppress the longing to travel. To such the Lyman Howe Travel Festival is always looked forward to with much pleasure because it offers opportunities to gratify the natural desire to see the world better than any other exhibition extant. It is a living realization of scenes which at best could only be imagined faintly. Among the many merits that distinguish Howe's exhibition above all others is the portrayal only of scenes that are of un-failing interest and their presentation with a degree of realism that is unrivalled. This explains why Howe's Travel Festival is the only substitute that is worth while of actual and foreign travel. Nothing could be more fascinating and instructive. The new "Itinerary" represents the concentrated efforts and tireless research of Howe's staff of photographers; of travel of the most expensive kind over land and sea; and of untold difficulties. It is presented so realistically that the illusion of actual travel is perfect. When you leave the theater after a two and a half hours' world tour with Howe, you have derived more real satisfaction, wholesome entertainment, and beneficial knowledge than can be gleaned from a score of dramatic or musical offerings.

Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival will be at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, one week, opening on Sunday, September 7th, and playing matinees daily.

Back to Eden

Refuting the axiom that "civilized man cannot live without cooks," as well as other fallacies, firmly rooted in the twentieth century, conception of necessities, Joseph Knowles is startling the world by his demonstration that a civilized being can live without civilization.

Convinced that a modern man, no matter how highly civilized, can live like primitive man in the Garden of Eden, the Boston artist is proving the truth of his conviction at the sacrifice of his usual comforts and the surrender of everything upon which man depends for sustenance and the supposed actual necessities of life.

Burying himself in the heart of the Maine woods, Knowles, finished product of the art and culture of today's civilization as he is, is living the life of the first man.

Wandering naked in the forest, absolutely without clothing, food, shelter or protective weapons, he is a "modern Adam" save for the mental acumen which is his unavoidable inheritance. The outer world keeps in touch with him only through messages, which he pencils on birch bark with charcoal and leaves for a guide to find.

From these rough messages the curious world learns that he has built for himself a permanent camp, sticks withed together, with a birch bark roof and chinks stuffed with moss. Here for two weeks he has carried out his plans, apparently in good health and without mishap. A fire, started with friction, is kept burning constantly before his camp, as its re-lighting without matches is no small matter. His bed is of fir boughs, covered with moss and dry leaves. Having no covering he depends on the fire for warmth. His food has been smoked fish, berries, wild cherries and hazelnuts.

This modern Adam probably finds Maine woods a little chilly, and is exerting ingenuity in making himself a suit, which will be protection, if not a late model.

Devising a stone ax by lashing a wedge-shaped stone to a stick with a strip of twisted cedar bark, Knowles is using the ax to strip more bark for his fall suit. He has already woven moccasins, a belt and a make-shift for trousers, and is now at work on a shirt of the same material. Later he will make a suit of skins. His bark sandals are a boon, as he had poisoned his feet from the ivy of the wood.

This modern Adam is also proving himself a nimrod without a gun, his most thrilling adventure the killing of a bear without trap, gun, spear or knife.

By means of a wooden shovel, rudely shaped with his stone ax, Knowles dug a pitfall in the woods. The pit, too deep for a bear to climb from, was covered with leaves, branches and moss and baited with fish.

The next morning Knowles found a year old bear in the pit. The artist prodded him with a pole, then wielded a "big stick" in true Teddy fashion and finally crushed the bear's skull.

According to his last birch bark bulletin Adam is now wrestling with the problem of inventing an instrument to skin and carve the bear.

The Boston artist's adventure is proving to the world how independent man can be without its supposed necessities, to say nothing of its luxuries. It is a thrilling experiment, novel enough to interest even the blasé, but it is a safe prophecy that Adam will return to his civilized haunts and habits.

Establish a Cooling Period and We Will Have Fewer Divorces

By the Rev. J. LEONARD LEVY of Pittsburgh.

A COOLING PERIOD OF THREE MONTHS FROM THE TIME OF THE FINAL HEARING UNTIL ULTIMATE DECISION IS HANDLED DOWN BY THE COURTS IS A SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM OF MINIMIZING THE DIVORCE EVIL.

Let the concluding chapters of a suit for divorce be HELD UP FOR A QUARTER OF A YEAR from the day of the completion of the trial, making it CONDITIONAL UPON THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF A RECONCILIATION.

This cooling period might thus elapse, during which NEITHER OF THE DIVORCED PERSONS COULD REMARRY. This might not only serve to restore the former relations, but would surely save us the shock to our moral sensibilities caused by the announcements such as "Divorced and married in one hour."

Another thing that should be advocated is uniform FEDERAL MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE LAWS. The confusion caused by so many acts and the possibility of evading the laws of one state by the protection of the laws of another state is certainly most undesirable. It is certain that if the present laws, inadequate, conflicting and confusing, were efficiently enforced, however, many of the evils deplored by honest men and women would disappear.

THE HASTY MARRIAGE MUST BE CURTAILED IF THE RATE OF DIVORCE IS TO DISAPPEAR.

Poetry For Today

GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME.

The world, they say, is gettin' old,
An' weary as can be,
But write me down, as sayin', It's good enough for me!
It's good enough, with all its grief,
its pleasure, and its pain,
An' there's a ray of sunshine for every drop of rain!

They stumble in the lonesome dark,
they cry for light to see,
But write me down as sayin', It's light enough for me!
It's light enough to lead us on, from where we faint and fall,
An' the hilltop nearest heaven wears the brightest crown of all.

They talk about the fadin' hopes that mock the years to be,
But write me down as sayin', There's hope enough for me,
Over the old world's wallin', the sweetest music swells,
In the stormiest night I listen and hear the bells—the bells!

This world o' God is brighter than we ever dreamed to know;
Its burden's growin' lighter an' it's love that makes it so.
An' I am thankful that I'm livin'
when love's blessedness I see,
'Neath a heaven that's forgivin' when the bells ring home to me.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer the Hundred Dollar Reward for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Automobile robes, in the different university colors, and bearing, either the university seal or a replica in felt of the university mascot, are a novelty much in demand this year, says Popular Mechanics. The Yale bulldog, on a blue blanket, and the Princeton robe, with the tiger's head in orange, on a field of black, are representative examples.

The Western College for Women at Oxford, is building a swimming pool for its students in the new gymnasium building, now nearing completion. The pool will be 22 by 40 feet with a depth of 3.5 to 7.5 feet. Miss Cook, physical director of the college, will teach the art of swimming. The gymnasium building is costing over $20,000.

A 45-car freight train, containing material for a complete modern blast furnace pig iron smelter, left Youngstown, Ohio, recently, destined for an Australian city. The plant F. O. B., Youngstown, is to cost $2,500,000.

The year 1912 in the aluminum industry was marked by an increase in the use of that light and beautiful metal by some 20,000,000 pounds. Not only in the domestic trade production, but there was a decided growth in the imports. The employment of aluminum in the manufacture of cooking utensils is being extended to the construction of tanks, vats and great vessels employed by the preserve manufacturer. A recently developed demand is the powder used on a paint pigment, in explosives and in lithographing and printing. Aluminum foil is taking place of tin foil. Aluminum wire and tubing have also been perfected after many difficulties.

The proposal to give Middletown, Ohio, a new charter and a commission form of government was carried in a light vote by 98 majority last week.

White Salmon, Washington, strawberry growers have formed a co-operative company and built a factory to put up preserved strawberries in order to save the over-ripe berries. This preserve prepared wholly in the sunshine and noted for its very beautiful color and appearance, is greatly in demand for high class hotels, dining cars, soda fountains and ice cream parlors.

At an administrator's sale held 1 mile east of Groveland, near Peoria, Ill., the 102 acre farm of the late George Stoltz was bid in for $310 per acre. The sale sets a new record for Illinois land in that vicinity.

An Arkansas grown watermelon, weighing 84 pounds, was sent yesterday by Miss Nell, Jim and Susie Wilson, daughters of Col. Con Wilson, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, to the three daughters of President Wilson, with a request that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson be permitted to help eat it. The families are not related.

NEW SCHOOL LAWS

School laws this year are more rigid than ever before, and a larger attendance than ever before will be the result.

State Superintendent of Instruction Frank W. Miller, has prepared the following guide to parents of children of a school age, and will cause every effort to be made for carrying out the law to the letter:

1. Every boy between the ages of eight and fifteen years, and every girl between the ages of eight and sixteen years, must attend school.
2. Every boy between the ages of fifteen and sixteen years not engaged in some regular employment must attend school.
3. Such attendance must begin the first week of school term and continue for the full time that the school is in session, which shall in no case be less than 28 weeks.
4. No person, firm or corporation shall employ any child under fifteen years of age in any business whatever during any of the hours when the schools are in session.
5. No boy under sixteen years of age and no girl under eighteen years of age shall be employed, unless such child presents an age and schooling certificate approved by the superintendent of public schools.
6. No boy is entitled to an age and schooling certificate until he is fifteen years of age and has passed a satisfactory sixth grade test, and no girl until she is sixteen years of age and has passed a satisfactory seventh grade test. Boys between fifteen and sixteen, who cease work must return to school within two weeks.

A GLIMPSE BACK THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

July 13, 1871.
Dr. Harlow sold thousands of glasses of soda water circus. Among the purchasers were a father and mother and four boys. They had a chicken, either arm which they disposed of, get money to go to the circus, but peanuts and soda water. The great 4-Paw menagerie and circus drew a larger crowd than any circus that has exhibited here for years. The treasurer of the show reported $2200 the receipts at this place.

Grocers pay the following prices for country produce: Butter, 15c; eggs, 10c; potatoes, $1.00; bacon, 8c; hams, 11c; shoulders, 7c; lard, 8c; peaches, apples and pears are very plentiful and hard to sell. Wheat is bringing $1.00 per bushel.

Hicks, the colored gentleman employed by our town council to attend to our street lamps was so much occupied with his wool speculation Tuesday night that he forgot to light the lamps and left the town in darkness. The 450 pounds of wool he stole from the factory of Van Deman and Dews has been recovered in Leesburg and Hicks is in jail. As he could not give bail he will likely remain there until after the next term of court.

Haldane Delivers Address.
Montreal, Sept. 2.—The address delivered by the lord high chancellor of England, Viscount Haldane of Cloan, formed the principal feature of the meeting of the American Bar association. Viscount Haldane had an audience which completely filled the Princess theater and which included many of the great legal lights of the western continent and several from Europe. His theme was "Higher Nationality—a Study in Law and Ethics." It was in many ways an epoch-making speech, dealing as it did with the relationships of three great nationalities, England, France and America.

Labor Day Movies as Repeated on a New Reel Before Thousands In Every Big City of the Nation.

Photographs by American Press Association.

All over the land yesterday Labor was spelled with a capital L. Scenes such as are depicted here were repeated, perhaps with greater numbers and more impressiveness. Each advancing year sees the gradual evolution in Labor day parades. Not many years ago they were simply small processions of men in their ordinary clothes carrying a few banners. Now the big parades are organized in a semi-military manner, the unions are represented by uniformed members and the floats are elaborate. Most of the 2,000,000 members of the unions affiliated with the National Federation of Labor now march proudly and firmly for principle and justice.

IMPORTANT ARREST IF DEDUCTIONS TRUE

NAB ALLEGED CROOK

Columbus Police Think They Have Money Order Counterfeiter.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—With the arrest of a man who gave the name of Sinclair Weston and appears to be about 40 years old, the police think they have captured a postoffice crook whose work has extended through several states. The man had in his room a complete outfit for counterfeiting postal money orders, together with orders on towns in New York, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Weston's scheme was to go into a pawnshop, make some purchases and then display a letter, supposed to be from his cousin at Gaylord, Va., mentioning among a quantity of neighborhood news that he was enclosing a money order for the $25 requested. The order was then produced and rendered as payment for Weston's purchases. He would receive a good quantity of change and depart for another shop.

Attacks Menace Seen In Shady Deals On 'Change

The seller does not actually own the property sold. Mr. Cummins, backed by several other Republican senators, delivered a vigorous criticism of stock and produce exchange operations and urged that congress do its utmost to discourage or prohibit fictitious trading, which he characterized as "gambling."

The Cummins amendment was offered as a substitute for the cotton futures tax proposed by Senator Clarke of Arkansas, which would impose a tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent per pound on all trades in cotton for future delivery. Senator Cummins insisted that it was more important to restrict and prohibit fictitious trading in securities and general produce than to simply regulate cotton trading.

The entire question of futures finally was referred back to the senate finance committee for further consideration.

Germans Want to Know How Uncle Sam Handles Criminals.

New York, Sept. 2.—For the first time Germany has decided that it may learn something from a study of American prisons and is sending here a commission of four to look over our penal institutions with Teutonic thoroughness. The four visitors will make a 2,000-mile tour under the direction of Orlando F. Lewis, general secretary of the prison association of New York, who was asked by the German government to arrange the itinerary.

Mr. Lewis will take the visitors about a great deal in motors and visit all the model prisons of this country. They will also see Sing Sing, one of the worst prisons in the world.

The commission will sail from Hamburg on the Victoria Lutz on Sept. 29, arriving in New York about Oct. 9.

HUSBAND IN WAIT AVENGES HIS WIFE

PHYSICIAN IS MURDERED

Insurance Collector Alleges Wife Was Mistreated in Hospital.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 2.—Dr. E. E. Gordon, a prominent physician of Cairo, was shot and instantly killed at St. Mary's infirmary by Harvey A. Fields, an insurance collector, who lay in wait for him. Fields fired two shots from a revolver and then gave himself up. He claims that his deed was prompted by the unwritten law and that the doctor mistreated his wife, who was in the hospital for appendicitis.

DIAZ BEWILDERED

London, Sept. 2.—General Felix Diaz did not receive his expected orders from Mexico City and therefore could make no definite announcement as to his plans for the future.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Lynch Leaves Prison.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—There was a touching scene at the penitentiary when William McKinley, convicted of leading the Newark lynchers, left the prison under parole and joined his wife in the warden's office. Mrs. McKinley is in ill health and her need of a husband's support was one of the factors which brought about his release. He was sentenced to 20 years on a technical charge of manslaughter, in connection with the killing of Detective Etherington.

Five Hurt in Wreck.

Montpelier, O., Sept. 2.—Four trainmen and a passenger were severely injured when the Toledo section of a Wabash passenger train collided with a switch engine in the yards. E. G. Eberhart, Peru, conductor, suffered a fracture of the skull, and E. J. Richmond, brakeman, was badly cut about the head. H. W. Hill, St. Louis, mail clerk, and W. H. Lefferts, engineer, of Toledo, were cut about the face. P. L. Blakeslee, a passenger, received internal injuries.

Acid Thrower Ends Life.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—After throwing carbolic acid in the face of Mrs. Elizabeth Stroufe, 40, Edward Hatton, 40, made an attempt to escape, but was captured by several policemen. Before they could get possession of the bottle, Hatton drained its contents, dying in a few minutes. He accused Mrs. Stroufe of being jealous.

Woman Motorcyclist Injured.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—Speeding on a motorcycle in the Winchester pike, Miss Gladys Bower and Thomas Shilling struck a rut in the road and were hurled into a ditch. The girl was picked up unconscious and taken to a hospital. She is badly hurt about the head and may not recover.

American Yachts Lead.

Marblehead, Mass., Sept. 2.—In the first of the series of sonder class races for the President Wilson and Governor Foss cups, the three American yachts finished ahead of the German invaders.

Desperate Are Affairs

In Michigan; Riot Feared

Increased vigilance, and every effort will be made to hold the strikers in check until the excitement dies down.

To just what extent the deputies were provoked before opening fire on the miners may never be learned. Before the troops could reach the scene of trouble the shooting was over.

The first shot was fired into the air and then the revolvers of 18 men cracked. The women fell back, the crowd of about 200 starting to retire on the run, followed by a hail of bullets.

The company operators claim that it was the speech of President Moyer Sunday that encouraged the strikers to more determined picket duty, which was in part the cause of the shooting.
